Renting a rack?

1. Please inspect items in-store as we cannot offer a refund or exchange on any items on the sellers behalf.

2. All garments put up for sale must be clean and in good condition. If they are considered unsellable due to their condition, they may need to be removed from the shop floor. Please ensure all items are clean, pressed/ironed and ticketed prior to bringing into shop and make sure you have a last-minute check for stains including fake tan around the colour etc. If your clothes have been in storage ensure they smell clean and fresh and check for any possible mildew or odour, they may need a quick freshen up. As you would most likely be aware, the better your clothes are presented on the hanger, the more likely they will attract potential buyers.

3. If a garment is faulty, please ensure you make a note on your pricing tag highlighting the fault, i.e. zip broken, missing button. Unfortunately, no responsibility can be taken should an item become faulty or damaged whilst in-store.

4. At The One Preloved, we will take every measure to avoid theft, however, we are unable to take responsibility for missing or stolen items. Please note the store is under constant video surveillance. Please also note no security tags are provided.

5. We take no responsibility in the event of a fire, water damage, robbery, or any other factors out of our control.

6. One rental period consists of 6 days and runs from WED – MONDAY, however there may be some instances where trading hours are extended or reduced seasonally over peak holiday periods. During these periods, any surcharges will be stipulated at the time of booking.

7. If the rack holder wishes to extend the rental period, this can be done only subject to availability.

8. All information given to The One Preloved Fashion is strictly confidential and will never be shared with any third parties.

9. If a rack holder wishes to cancel their rack halfway through their booking time, unfortunately the rest of the rental period will need to be forfeited and no refunds can be given for the cancellation period.

10. Throughout the rental period, we encourage you to top up your items as many times as you wish once your items start selling. You may have UP TO 30 items for a small rack and UP TO 60 items for a large rack at any given time.

Please avoid the temptation to over crowd your rack. I'm sure you can appreciate 30 items consisting of items such as shirts, tops, pants, etc., take up less space than Jackets and Coats. The easier it is for customers to move your items on the racks, the easier it is for them to view your clothing. It's much better to top up as much as you can.

You can track your sales in real time by logging into the app where you can identify how many pieces have sold and when is appropriate to top up.

You may also wish to provide further discounts towards the end of your booking to encourage last minute sales. This can be done via the app. Please advise us should you wish to apply a blanket "percentage off" discount and we will provide and display the appropriate signage.

11. Pricing Your Garments – As a general rule of thumb when pricing your garments you need to take into consideration, the age of the garment, the condition of the garment and if the garment is brand new.

Ie. If a Country Road Shirt @ $150 is Brand new with tags you could expect to get approx. 50% of that price (approx. $60-$75), if it is preloved but still within 1-5 years, you could expect to get 25-35% ($35-$50) of the original price. If the garment is older than 5+ years you may expect to ask for 15-25% ($15-$30) of the original price depending on the style and condition of the garment. Resell pages are a good source to gage average prices also.

For luxury brands, we suggest looking on websites such as Vestiarie Collective, Depop etc where you can gage an average sell price for brands.

We suggest booking a minimum of 2 weeks rental, that way you get 2 weekends of Hahndorf foot traffic. Price your garments for what you would believe is fair, we can then gage sales over the course of the week and then come up with a discount strategy for the final days if necessary. In our experience even a small discount can get your clothes moving...but in many instances if you have great brands at great prices, you may not even need to discount at the end of your rental period, it will come down to how motivated you are to move on your last pieces.

12. At the end of your rental period, the generated income from your items will be transferred into your account within 7 business days, less 10% commission and any other cost-based services, such as last-minute pack up that was not secured at time of reservation.

13. Rack rental costs must be paid in full, upfront at time of booking in-store or online.

14. Please ensure correct bank details are provided, as we cannot take responsibility should the holder provide incorrect bank details.

15. We do not allow 'copies' of designer brands on the shop floor. All designer pieces need to have a form of authenticity.

16. There may be instances where we are required to change around rack locations to allow for maximum booking capacity.

Cancellation Policy

- The weekly rack rental must be paid in total at time of booking. This is non-refundable due to change-of-mind or cancellation inside of 10 days prior to your booking. 100% of the booking fee will be carried over for a date change with 7 days-notice.
